VIETNAM-BOUND — PFC. James Pavelek, of Cameron, pauses before boarding a plane. He is now serving in South Vietnam and has reported in detail the life of the Army foot soldier in combat zone training. His story follows.

A man came into The Herald office Monday and asked if someone would cover the meeting of the Volunteer Fire Dept.

Told that it would be covered, the man said: "Fine. If you (the paper) are going to cover it, cover all of the story or none. If you're not going to get it all, don't come."

The Herald, as a matter of fact, has covered a great deal of the efforts of Cameron Volunteer Firemen, this week for example, but never were we advised how.

So we went to the Precinct 2 volunteer organizational meeting Tuesday evening, and arrived near the end of the meeting, in fact. They elected officers, heard a presentation on firemen's insurance and agreed to meet with City officials before the final organizational structure was laid out. Nathan Lewis was named chief, 108 believes.

Names of officers were withheld, at the request of some of the audience, about 30, present, mostly Cameron Volunteer Firemen, some of whom are willing to serve in the Precinct 2 organization.

Point is, of course, announcement information was released prior to the meeting, which The Herald ran, but names of officers elected before our arrival Tuesday were withheld, said to await a joint Precinct-City meeting. Lavert McKinney chaired the meeting. He was not the man who advised us how the meeting should be covered.

We would advise anyone who so advises us The Herald has no intention of ignoring worthy news such as efforts of volunteer firemen and their organizations for the whim of one man or a few.

Police Chief Donald Castello this week expressed appreciation to Cameron dog owners who have cooperated by having a record number of their pets vaccinated for rabies this summer.

The City has been conducting a campaign to increase the rabies shot program for dogs and to reduce the number of stray animals. Chief Castello assures that both efforts have met with wide success because Cameron residents cooperated so fully.

Pfc. Pavelek Tells View Of Vietnam

Substance of this story—to be a series of several parts—comes from four letters from Army Pfc. James Pavelek, serving in a support and transportation company of the 173rd Airborne Brigade, Bien Hoa, South Vietnam.—Ed.

By Frank M. Luecke
Jamie Pavelek, now 20, the boy who a few years ago painted the detailed oil of the old Milam County jail, now in a local cafe, signs his name Jim.

He has matured considerably the six weeks he has been stationed at Bien Hoa, his encampment a few miles from an airfield occasionally shelled by Viet Cong mortars.

Four letters in June to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pavelek, of 1310 West Main St., describe his duties as a clerk with Company C, 173rd Support Bn. (Airborne).

And they reiterate his admiration for the infantryman who must cope with the dense Vietnamese jungle, its heat, rain and innumerable pests, and the invisible VC.

Pfc. Pavelek graduated from Yoe High School in 1964, worked at an art gallery in Austin and for Texas Instruments until February, 1966, and joined the Army as the Vietnam effort expanded. He served first in Germany, but was transferred to Vietnam in June, stopping in Cameron for a leave before going to Southeast Asia.

Though in a combat zone, indeed the Iron Triangle his unit occupies is pitted with pockets of the war. Company C of the 173rd has taken no fatalities in the past year.

He assures his parents he is safe, ironically, while the VC mortar the nearby Bien Hoa Air Base and elements of the 173rd Airborne Brigade take heavy casualties somewhere north of his unit's perimeter.

His letter of June 21 says: "As I write this letter, the 503rd Artillery is blasting AG rounds across the river into D-Zone to harass the enemy. It's thundering here so much, it's an accepted way of life. Guys just lay around near portable radios and smoke. I can't help but wonder how long it takes to get used to it."

He knows more of war than merely listening. He was required to take seven days of jungle combat training during June. His experience was a capsule of what the soldier and marine endure in combat. And his admiration for the American foot soldier, not unlike that gained by GI's in World Wars I and II and Korea, is immense.

Writes he: "You can take the three hardest men in the States—a miner, a construction worker and a farmer—and combine them and you still don't have all it takes to be one Army infantryman..."

"Boy, I'd like to see some college draft-card burner make one protest in front of one of these guys. He'd lose every tooth in his head right quick-like," he notes.

In a letter of June 23, Pavelek observes: "I know those guys live hard out there. The only joy is that beautiful helicopter coming in with precious water and rations. That's all those guys have. That and a quick death. It's terrible. 'A' Company, Second Battalion, 503rd Infantry, suffered 90 percent losses and casualties up north last night. It's probably all over the news back home. It's the worst defeat since I've been here."

He refers to a widely publicized battle in June in which a rifle company was pummeled and overrun by Viet Cong, virtually wiping out the unit.

It is a war of irony and curious contrast for the young Cameronite.

Weslacoan Draws Hit - Run Charge

Highway patrolmen arrested Olgarno Perez in Cameron last week and charged him with a July 1 hit and run accident.

Perez, of Weslaco, Texas, was driving a 1962 Chevrolet which collided with a 1967 Chevrolet pickup driven by Joe J. Rozner at Pettibone about 1 a.m. July 1. Patrolman Leroy Broadus said they traced the car to Perez who was working with a Santa Fe gang at Cameron.

NMH Asks Bids On 40-Bed Wing

The Board of Directors of Newton Memorial Hospital has voted unanimously to add facilities for 40 more beds, according to F. L. Gregory, a member of the hospital board.

AREA DEPOSITS UP AS STATE RECORDS GAIN

Milam County banks followed a state-wide upward trend in deposits according to figures compiled following a state and national bank call last week.

All-time high deposits were reported in many Texas cities including Fort Worth, Austin, Lubbock, Abilene, Vernon, Corpus Christi, Denton, Denison, San Angelo, and Longview.

First National Bank, Cameron, showed the largest gain in Milam County. Reported deposits of $6,991,643.84 on June 30, 1967, were $680,189.80 over June 30, 1966.

Citizens National Bank, Cameron showed an increase of $532,138.85 over last year with deposits totaling $13,317,614.71.

Rockdale State Bank's deposits were up $50,530.64 with deposits of $7,346,356.49 and Buckholts State Bank was up $81,260.77 with deposits totaling $1,199,744.19. Thornedale State Bank showed a gain of $122,575.53 with deposits of $1,276,009.92.

Area banks also showed the state-wide gain. First State Bank, Rogers, listed total deposits of $796,747.64, a gain of $68,819.49 over last year. Planters National Bank, Rosebud reported total deposits of $1,709,588.26, up $123,136.07 over June 30, 1966 and First National, Rosebud reported $1,303,956.86 for an increase of $34,751.63 over last year.

He said Tuesday that plans already have been approved by the State Board of Health and are in the hands of contractors for bids.

The five-man board in a meeting Friday reviewed proposed plans and voted unanimously to call for bids, Gregory told The Herald.

He said bids are to be let and construction is expected to start about August 1.

The proposal for space for 40 additional beds could be 40 single rooms or 20 double rooms or a combination, he said. Alternatives are being considered, according to the spokesman.

He said "the final figure would depend upon the bids."

It would be the first expansion of Newton Memorial Hospital since the structure was built and opened in the early 1960's. Half of the original building funds were provided through the Hill-Burton hospital construction program in the original program.

Gregory said no Hill-Burton funds will be used in the expansion program. Funds would be raised through the present hospital operation by pledge and loan.

Members of the Hospital board are: B. M. McMillion, president, N. L. Caperton, Alvin Dusek, Charles C. Smith, Jr., and Gregory, members.

Volunteers Fight Huge Grass Fire

Head-high flames raced along Santa Fe railroad south side right-of-way Sunday afternoon burning a path from Cameron's west city limits past Buckholts toward Rogers.

Pasture land and fences were destroyed by flames in the Pettibone and Elm Ridge communities.

3 WILDCATS

ADD TO SEVEN, DEEP TEST ON

By Lloyd Albertson
Scheduling of three new wildcats, totaling 13 in recent weeks, in the north Milbur Field and re-scheduling of a 7,000-foot wildcat 3½ miles southeast of Milano were among the week's developments in Milam County's booming oil activity.

One of the new Milbur Field wildcats was the Luling Oil & Gas Company No. 2 Joe Martin and was spudded immediately. It was reported drilling at 1,432 feet last Thursday and by weekend was down to its objective, the basal Wilcox, and was running final log.

Hancock Drilling Company of San Antonio was contractor for the No. 2 Martin. Location of this wildcat is 1,050 feet southwest of the company's No. 1 Joe Martin, 56 barrel per day Wilcox discovery, and is in D. W. Vanveighn Survey.

It is also about 1,000 feet northwest of Ashland Oil & Refining Company's No. 1 Blackburn - Trammell, the second well brought in in the field.

Luling Oil & Gas Company also will drill another of the scheduled new wildcats. This will be the No. 1 A. Coldiron, located on a 43 acre lease in Smith Vincent Survey. Drillsite for this wildcat is about 900 feet northeast of the No. 1 Joe Martin.

The third new wildcat scheduled for north Milbur will be drilled by the J. M. Huber Corporation and R. E. Smith and will be the No. 1 W. P. Hogan. Location of the Hogan is on a 173.7 acre lease in David W. Vanveighn Survey and 660 feet south of Luling No. 2 Joe Martin.

The 7,000 foot wildcat scheduled to be drilled 3½ miles southeast of Milano is the same deep test which was set by a Houston operator, Herman C. Page, last June. Location is on a 98 acre lease and it will be the No. 2 Eddie C. Scurlock. Page reported that this wildcat had been delayed, but he would apply for a new permit and would drill.

Permit depth is 7,000 feet or the Glen Rose. This is a change from the earlier announcement, which said the Woodbine, a new formation to be tested in Milam County, was the wildcat's objective.

The only Glen Rose discovery in Milam County was made in 1953 when the D. H. Byrd No. 1 Lucinda Greene was brought in as a Glen Rose and Pettit dual gas and distillate well at about 7,800 feet.

Several theories on the origin of the fire were being investigated this week. Milam County Sheriff Carl Black said he had received a report of two men throwing lighted matches out of a passing Santa Fe freight car at about the time the fire started. Temple police checked the train at Temple, but found no one, Black said.

A second report was that an over-heated journal box on the Santa Fe train (called a "hot-box") was throwing sparks that ignited dry grass along the tracks. Santa Fe officials in Temple said this was also being investigated.

FIRES EVERY 150 YARDS

Cameron fireman Warren McCall said it appeared that fires had been ignited about every 100 or 150 yards along the track between Cameron and Rogers.

Cameron firemen also extinguished a grass fire on S. Burleson at 1:35 p.m. Sunday and a grass fire at the Jackson home in Mayfield Monday was brought under control before the Cameron unit arrived.

Area residents have been requested to refrain from burning trash and to use extra precautions with cigarettes and matches because of dry conditions.

Police To Enforce City Stray Dog Law

Police Chief Donald Castello announced that beginning this week all dogs running loose with no tags and collars will be picked up and put in the city pound.

Castello said that according to city ordinance dogs not claimed within 3 days will be disposed of.

10 Indicted By Milam Grand Jury

A 12-member Milam Grand Jury panel Friday returned 13 indictments after hearing 22 witnesses at Milam Courthouse.

It was July meeting of the May Term of Milam Grand Jury.

Six cases of burglary and a case of assault with intent to murder were among true bills, according to County Atty. John B. Henderson Jr.

INDICTMENTS INCLUDED:
Charge of assault with intent to murder against Johnny Lee Bell, of Rockdale, involving alleged offense on June 18.
Burglary charged against Rex Parsons, of Dallas, in alleged offense on Oct. 2, 1966.
Burglary charged against Gary Maddox, of Cameron, in alleged offense of April 15.
Burglary (two cases) charged against Joe Fredrick, of Austin, involving offenses alleged May 10.

and telephone poles were damaged. Several houses and farm buildings were threatened.

Cameron volunteer firemen joined by National Guardsmen from Cameron's Company C, Buckholts, Rogers and Temple fire fighters and a group of teenage boys from Cameron fought the grass fire in 100-degree plus heat for more than 3 hours.

Flames jumped across the road at one point setting fire to fields on the north side of SH36 at Elm Ridge.

HUMAN CHAIN
Volunteers and area residents beat out flames with wet sacks, working in a human chain along the fire line. Changing wind directions and intense heat drove volunteers back several times. Rattlesnakes were also a danger to fire fighters, stirred out of the high grass as the fire approached.

Roland Carr estimated that he lost more than a mile and a half of fences and about 150 acres of pasture in the fire. The J. C. Cauthens also suffered heavy losses.

Both praised efforts of volunteers who were able to keep the fire from spreading to their homes and farm buildings.

The fire was extinguished about 6 p.m., but Cameron firemen were called back to the Carr farm at Elm Ridge later that night when a smoldering field blazed again.

Several theories on the origin of the fire were being investigated this week. Milam County Sheriff Carl Black said he had received a report of two men throwing lighted matches out of a passing Santa Fe freight car at about the time the fire started. Temple police checked the train at Temple, but found no one, Black said.

Medical ID Card Or Wristband Can Be Lifesaver

All over the world a simple six-sided figure has become the symbol of identification of personal medical problems. The symbol appears on the AMA emergency medical identification card, and on other signal devices recognized by doctors everywhere. Who should carry identification? Everyone, says the AMA. A card is useful to identify an ill or injured person, to help locate family, friends and personal physician, and to give information that will improve emergency care. People with special health problems should also wear a durable metal or plastic alerting signal device on their wrist, ankle or neck, indicating their need for special medical care. The emergency medical identification card should note special problems that need immediate attention in an emergency or that could cause an emergency. For example, diabetics must be identified so that a person in diabetic coma will get proper treatment promptly and needed doses of insulin will not be overlooked during treatment for injury. The need for certain medicines must be known. Heart patients taking drugs to prevent blood clots may bleed profusely if injured unless they receive special care. Other people are sensitive to certain drugs and must never take them. Epileptics could be saved much trouble and unnecessary hospitalization if they carried a card indicating that they may have seizures. Neck breathers (those who breathe through a tube surgically inserted behind their "Adam's apple") must be recognizable to protect them from smothering. An emergency medical identification kit may be obtained by addressing Box C, Emergency Medical Identification, American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60610. Single kits are free on request. The kit contains two identification cards, a pamphlet describing the universal symbol, and a list of manufacturers of signal devices bearing this symbol.

Alcohol Institute Meets At Austin

AUSTIN The alcoholic -- actual, incipient or potential -- who will be the subject of a week of lectures, films and forum discussions during the Tenth Annual Institute on Alcohol Studies in Austin, July 16-21, is not a theoretical person. He-or she-- is one of the estimated 300,000 Texans who actually labor under the restraints of the illness which is considered the nation's fourth most pressing public health problem, after heart, cancer, and mental illness. He-or she-is one of those one out of every 10 persons who drinks who is a potential alcoholic, in the view of the American Medical Association. And, he-or she-may be the teenager who is just beginning to wonder whether "to drink," and does not know how to evaluate this social custom, in light of its abuse by adult acquaintances. The Institute, sponsored by the Texas Commission on Alcoholism with The University of Texas, other state agencies dedicated to education and public health, and councils on alcoholism in 20 cities, will be held in Kinsolving Dormitory on the U.T. campus, and in Grege Hall at neighboring All Saints' Episcopal Church. Each morning and evening session of the Institute will be devoted to general sessions -- lectures, films, panel discussions, but what Macon W. Freeman, director of Texas Commission on Alcoholism, calls "the meat of the Institute" will be found in afternoon forum sessions. Forum subjects will range from one designed for school personnel, to that of legal aspects of the problem. The education forum will emphasize decision making rather than the mere handing out of factual information. A forum for clergymen who want to establish meaningful relationships with alcoholics and their families will be led by Rev. John DeFoore of Abilene. Medical findings will be reviewed, along with forums for business and labor personnel.

LL Colts Cinch Champs Crown

The Colts cinched the Cameron Little League crown Monday night when they took the Cardinals 13-7 and held their record to 10 wins and 1 loss so far this season. The Cardinals were the ones who marred the Colts record earlier in the season.

Captain N. E. Barron's Yankees will get another stab at the Colts Thursday when they meet in the last game of the regular season. The Yankees have won second place in the league.

Following the regular season, All-Star games are being planned with the All-Star players being selected Wednesday night.

Colts - Cardinals
Gary Hornung, newcomer this season in Little League, was winning pitcher for the Colts Monday with second baseman Ricky Sapp relieving him in the sixth inning. Randy Sapp was behind the plate and scored two of the Colts runs.

Shortstop Pat Sheguit scored four of the Colts runs with first baseman Joe Trdy and third baseman David Hornung scoring three each. Milton Crawford, Ernest De La Rosa and Ricky Sapp scored one run each to round out the Colts scoring.

Second baseman Mike Malone hit a home run for the Cardinals and added another run accounting for two of the Cardinal scores. Dennis Hardwick scored three runs with Glenn Cryer and Eugene Mitchan scoring one each.

Indians - Bears
It was a spectators ball game Tuesday night when the Indians and Bears battled a 9-9 tie with the Indians coming out on top for a 10-9 victory.

The Indians took an early 9-4 lead in the second inning, then the Bears held them scoreless until the last inning and picked up six more runs to tie the game in the fifth. The Bears' chance came in the fifth when they had two on, but Indian left fielder David Tucker threw a crank in it when he snagged a high hit fly ball in left field and the Bears third out.

Steve Lopez, first baseman, cinched the game for the Indians when he hit a hard ball into left field and made the bases for the one run the Indians needed in the bottom of the sixth to win the game. Lopez also picked up a run in the 2nd.

Winning pitcher Fred Rangel picked up two runs and Ronnie Chamberlain and Brian Friesen-hahn added two each. Catcher Mike Mueck and Donnie Mikulec scored one each to round out the scoring for the Indians.

Yankees - Bears
In last week's games the Yankees defeated the Bears 14-5. Thursday action saw John Barron on the mound for the Yankees with Gene Kopriva behind the plate. Kenneth Dusek and Mike Trdy were the battery for the Bears.

Yankee scores were made by Chester Buchanan, John Barron, Charles Eanes and Gene Kopriva 2 each and Jeff Smitherman, Craig Friemel, Bruce Zarosky, Mike Young and David Eanes 1 each.

Kenneth Dusek scored 2 runs for the Bears with James Burnett, Glenn Cummings and Trdy each adding one.

Indians - Cardinals
The Indians took the Cardinals to the tune of 10-4 Friday night. Gary Thweatt, Cardinal second baseman and pitcher, hit a home run and added another of the Cardinal scores. Eddie Coker and Gene Mitchan both rounded the bases for the Cardinals' two other scores. Glenn Cryer and Mike Malone were on the mound for the Cardinals and Gene Mitchan was the catcher.

Leading scores for the Indians were David Tucker, Brian Friesen-hahn, Ronnie Chamberlain and Mueck with three runs each. Steve Lopez, Gary Fuchs and Mark Jeter scored two runs each with Fred Rangel adding another for the 19 runs.

SEASON RECORDS
Colts 10-1, Yankees 9-2, Indians 5-7, Cardinals 1-10. The Cardinals and Bears both had a game rained out and the Colts and Yankees have one game rained.

A game is scheduled between the Lions and Hustlers to determine other team standings at the season's end.

White Sox - Hustlers
In last Thursday's game Phillip McCall pitched a winning game for the White Sox, in a 11-6 3-4 scrap. Sheldon Hayes was behind the plate. Scoring were Alan Jones and James Thompson 2 each and Phillip McCall 1.

Pitching for the Hustlers was Gene Goeke, with Joe Smitherman behind the plate. Runs were made by Bill Hughes, James McCullin, Joe Smitherman, and Brian Cobb, 1 each.

Schiller Attending National Conference On State Legislation

AUSTIN Speaker of the House Ben Barnes appointed Rep. Milton Schiller of Cameron to attend the annual meeting of the Committee of State Officials on Suggested State Legislation. Other Texas House members attending are Reps. Neal Solomon of Mount Vernon and Neil Caldwell of Angleton.

The committee, a subsidiary group of the Council of State Governments, are meeting in Baltimore this week to discuss controversial measures facing state legislatures.

In making the appointment, Speaker Barnes said, "During his three terms of service in the House, Rep. Schiller has compiled an excellent record. He has exhibited ability and dedication, and I am confident that he will be an effective participant in the discussions and a very able representative of our state."

During the 60th Legislature, Rep. Schiller was chairman of the Continuing Expense Committee and also served as a member of the Committees on Aeronautics, Agriculture, Urban Affairs, and Revenue and Taxation.

Draft Board Henderson Marks 15 Years Service

Jeff A. Henderson of Ben Arnold will retire after serving over 500 uncompensated hours on the Milam County Selective Service Board.

Henderson Retires

He has devoted part of one day, usually a Sunday, to the local draft board each month. Meeting with Lyngle Barnes Jr. of Thornedale, August Kunz of Cameron, E. C. Westbrook Jr. of Milam and Lester E. Hirt, Rockdale, Henderson has helped determine draft classifications of Milam County young men eligible by age for military service for 15 years.

He was appointed to the Board by President Harry S. Truman in 1952. The job took on heavier burdens during the Korean conflict and in recent years under an Army buildup for Vietnam duty. Board members classify the young men and rule on postponements. Actual calls for draft are from the state according to classification and age.

Last year draft calls were for about twice as many men from Milam County as this year.

Henderson will retire under a new selective service ruling which forbids members' serving more than 25 years or after they have reached age 75. The new ruling also permits women to serve on formerly all-male draft boards. A committee composed of the local Board chairman, county judge, County clerk, county school superintendent and a representative of Veterans of Foreign Wars or American Legion will meet to recommend a successor. The nominated appointee will be approved by the Governor and appointed by the President.

Nowadays you hear a great deal about retirement. More and more employees are being included in retirement programs.

Retirement means many things to many people. But have you ever noticed that when a man retires from long and faithful service his fellow employees usually give him fishing tackle?

He is quoted as saying that now he is going to spend all the time he wants trying to catch that big fish. But it doesn't always work out that way.

Other things come up and before long our retired brother is working on another parttime job. Or he's just sitting around the house getting in mama's way.

There are many exceptions, of course. Lots of retired people get real enjoyment out of their retirement. I have a neighbor like that. He's not an avid fisherman, but he catches more catfish on a trotline than anybody I know. That's his hobby. He enjoys setting out trotlines in the lake where he has a retirement cabin.

Another friend spends all his time chasing around over the country sampling different fishing holes. He has been in a half-dozen states already this year. He says he knows Texas fishing is best, but he just likes to see how they do it in other places. Might learn something, you know.

I've talked to scores of retired people about what they like to do. It seems that fishing is the one thing most prefer.

Fishing is a great tranquilizer.

A tormented man can find peace while fishing. A happy man can find the next thing to heaven.

There are many quotations about fishing. Perhaps the best known is the one which says "Allah does not deduct from the allotted time of man those hours spent in fishing." At least that is a good philosophy because it will help keep a retired man on his feet and point him in the right direction.

The man who has learned to take his retirement with grace also has learned to fish the patient way. He is more likely to want to just sit in the boat, smoke his pipe and watch the dragon flies as they flit about his bobber.

Or, if he's a caster, he becomes more deliberate. He hasn't necessarily slowed down. He just gets more enjoyment out of soaking up the pleasure of his surroundings.

Count me among the millions looking forward to retirement. Personally, there could be nothing grander than spending a good part of my retirement time on the water. And especially so with a good fishing buddy.

I greatly enjoy watching the squirrels on the bank, the turtle on the log, the snake as it works its way through the water and the big bass as it guards its nest on a shallow-water gravel bed.

Also I enjoy teaching young boys and girls to fish. It teaches them patience, courtesy, cooperation, fellowship and a host of other codes of companionship.

There still is a place in this world for the senior citizens. The man who has reached the Golden Years is a useful man. He's a happy man. He's earned his right to relax and enjoy himself. He's

Increase Seen In Farm Size, Value And Sales

COLLEGE STATION
Texas farms and ranches continue to grow in size, value, and products sold, according to Tom E. Prater, Extension farm management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Farm and ranch value (buildings and land) reached $79,625 per acre in 1966 as compared to $51,787 per acre in 1965. The value of buildings and land has increased from $82.11 per acre in 1959 to $114.20 per acre in 1964.

Prater said the 1964 U.S. Census showed investment per farm or ranch in buildings and land alone exceeded $100,000 in 117 Texas counties. An investment of $200,000 was exceeded by 46 counties, and 14 counties exceeded an investment of $300,000 per farm or ranch for land and buildings.

The average size of the Texas farm or ranch increased 60 acres from 630.7 in 1959 to 690.9 in 1964.

Farm products sold in 1959 amounted to $2,108,880,646 as compared to $2,227,339,392 in 1964. The average per farm or ranch for 1959 was $9,306 and in 1964, $10,859.

Tips From Tippet

Records of young drivers worsened in 1966. Drivers under 25 years of age were involved in almost 32 percent of the fatal accidents as compared to 30 percent in 1965.

According to the Bureau of Public Roads, drivers under 25 constitute about 19 percent of all licensed drivers. So young drivers are involved in almost 70 percent more accidents than their numbers warrant.

Both the older groups improved their records in 1966.

Over the years young drivers (under 25) and old drivers (over 65) have been involved in proportionately more fatal accidents than non-fatal accidents.

The largest group of licensed drivers 25-64 tends to be involved in fewer fatal accidents than non-fatal accidents. The reason for this is not known. Perhaps it can be accounted for by saying that the young are quick and impatient and the old are stubborn.

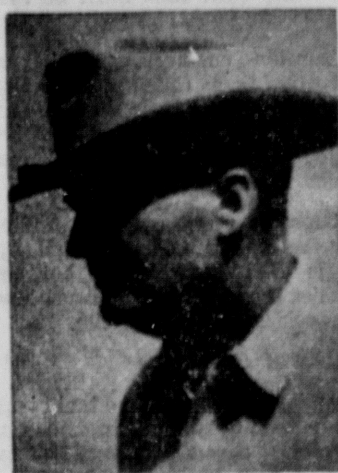

FARM SAFETY WEEK

President Johnson has proclaimed the week of July 23-29 as National Farm Safety Week and urged all farm people and those allied with agriculture to apply full energy to the reduction of farm, home and highway accidents.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

—By—

J. D. MOORE

Tetanus represents a dangerous problem, especially in horses, if the animal is not properly treated. Although the horse is particularly vulnerable to tetanus, swine and sheep can be afflicted with the disease. Castration is the most common wound to all three through which the disease may enter. Particular care should be taken when shoeing the horse or when docking or shearing sheep. Barbed wire injuries should be treated immediately to insure against infection. Tetanus is caused by an anaerobe, an organism that grows in the absence of oxygen. The organism reproduces by spores and therefore can protect itself from its environment. The organism produces a potent toxin affecting the nervous system. This is the basic cause of the disease. If a wound is noted, the animal should be given tetanus antitoxin. The animal should gain immediate immunity which will be effective for about two weeks.

Tetanus toxoid will give long-range protection if desired. Two injections of tetanus toxoid two-three weeks apart with an annual booster should give the desired protection.

If tetanus is detected or suspected, call your local vet at once. Incidentally, people also should be protected by immunization, according to local physicians.

"Hunting The Hound"

A Dog Shipped, A Dog Delivered

By Jesse Wilkerson

This story was told to me by a good friend, an old timer, who lives in Cameron today. He "is up in years," as the saying goes, but a man who is still young in heart.

The title of this narrative could very appropriately be headed, "Tales of Wells Fargo." But Cliff Robertson, in his TV series, was never faced with a problem such as the one which confronted the young man who drove the one-horse Wells Fargo delivery wagon, in Cameron, many years ago.

The morning train from Waco brought in a cage which contained a valuable blooded hound. It was necessary that transfer be made from the Sap Depot to the Santa Fe for final destination.

So our young man loaded his valuable cargo and started out. Being somewhat of a dog lover, he could not help but admire the sleekness and beautiful markings of the hound. On his way across Frog Flats, he stopped his horse, descended from his seat, and decided he would make closer examination.

Mrs. E. E. Phillips is a patient under medical treatment at Newton Memorial Hospital in Cameron. Here to be with their mother and grandmother are Mrs. C. J. Yanner and daughters, Rebecca and Jennifer Sue of San Antonio.

Mrs. John Busby of San Antonio has been a guest of her mother, Mrs. E. Horstman and sister, and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Brady.

Mr. and Mrs. Obie Hess are patients under medical treatment at Newton Hospital in Cameron. Visitors have been their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Horst Hess and granddaughter, Marilyn Hess of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lewis, Jr. and sons, Robbie and Rickey of Houston visited Sunday with his aunts, Mrs. Ethel Chapman and Mrs. G. C. Williams. Other guests of Mrs. Chapman have been Mrs. Horst Hess and daughter, Marilyn of San Antonio, and Mrs. Ray Mauldin of Temple.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gersbach have been their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Olenick and son, Eric of Bay City and granddaughter, Debra Gersbach of Denton.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Burtis are her son's family, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Williams and children, Douglas K., Sherry, and Monte of Detroit, Michigan.

Opening the cage door, he reached in to give the dog a friendly pat. Then it happened. The hound sprang through the door and dashed away. To say that the express man was disturbed and worried, would be putting it mildly. Frantically, he searched the neighborhood, with thoughts of being fired uppermost in his mind.

Several hours later the young fellow drove up to the Santa Fe station. In the back of his wagon was the crate with a hound dog reposing peacefully inside. He was a very pleased and relieved young fellow when the train pulled out with the dog safely aboard. They say that persistence pays off in the end. But ingenuity is also a helpful asset.

No doubt but the dog's new owner was somewhat flabbergasted, when his hound arrived. Unable to find the hound that had escaped, his ingenious young express man had substituted a mangy, flea-bitten old hound he had picked up in Santa Fe town.

As he said later, "A hound was shipped, and a hound had to be delivered."

Vacation Season Brings Rise In Home Burglaries

Burglaries are beginning to take a sharp toll on the homeowner - and the trend goes on the upswing during the vacation season.

What is causing this trend? "Carelessness by the homeowner and the growing number of portable valuables in the home," said Alan Stevens, in charge of crime loss prevention at Liberty Mutual Insurance Co.

"People have a tendency to broadcast the fact that they are not at home," he said.

They leave the garage door open, showing that the family car is gone; they forget to tell the newsboy and the mailman to stop deliveries while the family is on vacation; they don't tell the next door neighbor to keep an eye on the house.

The key to preventing home burglaries, Stevens said, is "inconvenience."

"Because the burglar is usually an amateur, he can be deterred if all the doors and windows are locked or if the family has a dog," he said. "It simply must be inconvenient and even hard for him to enter and leave the home undetected."

HD Club Notes

By Christine Laws

One of the best ways to stretch the budget is to buy wisely. Wise buying of food alone can save hundreds of dollars per year for the average family.

Make a careful plan for spending. The consumer should know in advance what he wants to buy and should limit impulse buying drastically. A wealth of information on almost any subject is available to the purchaser in the form of consumer ads, service booklets, government bulletins, and business sponsored publications. This information can help a buyer decide on the kinds of things he wants without the influence of the seller.

A consumer should be alert to price, but also should recognize substantial variations in quality. A low price may lead to a poor purchase if quality is inferior, when a purchase lasts longer, so does your money. Buyers should be familiar with recognized standards of quality. In most instances, labels provide a great deal of information which can help a buyer make a wise purchase.

Choose the right time and place to shop. Sales and bargains are bargains only if they offer you the chance to get something you want for less than it ordinarily costs. Buying something which is not needed just because it is a bargain is hardly a way of aiding the family budget.

A seller never offers "something for nothing." While the lure is hard to resist, rational buyers know that good buys do not exist under this "give away" heading. Be wary of package purchases - that is, buying one item to get another one "free." It may be wiser to buy the "free" item separately rather than making a purchase that you don't need.

After purchasing an item, take care of it. Proper maintenance means fewer replacements, and longer periods of time between purchases. Be careful of waste, especially in such budgeted items as food, utilities, and clothing.

Mrs. Ralph Poteet is shown enjoying cooking on her electric range in her Gold Medallion Home in Mesquite.

You don't have to live in a Gold Medallion Home to ENJOY ELECTRIC COOKING*

*...but it helps

The kitchen is the heart of the modern home... and the flameless electric range is the heart of the modern kitchen.

If you are about to replace your present range, remodel your kitchen, or build a new home, talk to homemakers like Mrs. Ralph Poteet of Mesquite and learn first-hand of the many advantages of electric cooking.

You'll find that electric cooking is cool cooking... heat doesn't spill out into the room. It's clean... no fuel combustion to stain pots and pans or to discolor walls and curtains. It's automatic... simply set and forget. It's economical... costs only about $2.25 a month for a family of four.

If you put your heart in your cooking... you'll love an electric range.

Electric cooking is only one of the enjoyable features of living in an all-electric Gold Medallion Home. When Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Poteet of Mesquite recently modernized their home to include an all-electric kitchen, laundry, water heater, ample lighting and air conditioning... their home also became the

SPEAKING OF GAPS

Grassfire Problem Continues . . .

Perhaps a hundred Cameron volunteer firemen, guardsmen, farmers and other volunteers fought the extensive grass blaze Sunday west of Cameron. Cause of the fire is still being investigated.

Though damage to fence and field was extensive, property owners in the area were congratulating the volunteers whose efforts likely saved some houses in the area.

Fire equipment from Cameron and the equipment to be used by Precinct 2 saw action in the grass fire that was one of the largest in recent years.

Those men who responded to the call receive no compensation except the knowledge they did save some property. Some others may enjoy the excitement of the run and fighting a fire itself.

During one of the drier years, grassfires are a problem and a good reason for all the proper equipment obtainable for fighting them. We understand the Precinct 2 equipment is much better adapted for fighting open - field grassfires than the large Cameron trucks which cannot pump water while moving.

Until a good rain solves the problem, it will continue to be a threat to the grassland in Milam County.

Scouts Welcome Tourists . . .

The fact that some 500 cars stopped at Boy Scout Troop 52's stand at City Park in a 24-hour holiday period dramatizes the impact of tourism potential in Cameron.

A similar effort last year by another Cameron Scout Troop also enjoyed the same results. Cameron gained the good public relations of hundreds of families then and on the recent July 4 weekend.

Tourism efforts continue in Cameron while industrial and general civic improvements are well advanced.

Success in tourist attraction could be the cream of Cameron's development coffee, costing relatively little while the major investment is in the basics of more employment, better streets, schools, housing and recreation.

As the Scouts demonstrated, the traffic through Cameron is a growing dynamic, which many hundreds of Texas towns this size well could envy.

Cameron Scouts are to be congratulated for recognizing the public service aspect for the tourists while giving Cameron's "friendly city" atmosphere the reach of these hundreds of points of new contact.

We hope Cameron tourism efforts are able to continue and build upon their "good deed" example.

A New Sir Francis . . .

Now it is Sir Francis Chichester and Britain's beknighted glory of empire is momentarily of moment.

The courageous 65-year-old sailed 28,000 miles alone around the world, returning to the hero's welcome, modern commercial endorsements and all.

Queen Elizabeth II tapped Chichester's shoulders with the same sword used in knightening Sir Francis Drake, 16th Century English circumnavigator. That Sir Francis was knighted by the first Queen Elizabeth, whose buccaneer sea captains helped claim the British Empire for their queen.

This Sir Francis, though quite courageous, was far more humble than Drake, Walter Raleigh and other 16th century adventurers.

And he is just as rich. Commercial endorsements awaited him, almost as bountifully as the crowds of Britishers on shore upon his return or in the streets after his knightening.

"By the greatest luck and by the grace of God," said he of his daring solo voyage, that his sailing venture round the world succeeded.

He might also have mentioned his incredible courage.

Sales Tax Vote Sought By Cities

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Within the next few months, residents of several cities in Texas may vote local sales taxes on themselves.

Some of the larger cities are considering elections under the new law which permits a community to levy a one per cent sales tax, if its citizens approve.

This is in addition to the state's two per cent sales tax.

In Austin, a group of businessmen and civic leaders are urging the city council to call a sales tax election.

A statewide survey indicates that Houstonians - where the proposed tax could bring in as much as $14 million a year - will be among the first to vote. Mayor Louie Welch said the city council will be asked to call an election on the issue this fall.

San Antonio Mayor W. W. McAllister expressed support for the local sales levy and said a vote could be scheduled after September 28. Without the additional revenue, he said, San Antonio would have to reduce municipal services or inaugurate more service charges.

City officials in many smaller towns, on the other hand, indicate they have no intention of rushing into sales tax controversies. One, who probably represented views of many, said city governing bodies ought to wait on a call by citizens, through petitions or other formal requests, before setting any elections to impose new forms of taxation.

AUTO INSURANCE

Starting August 1, Texans will be paying slightly less for their auto insurance on a statewide average.

Some will pay considerably less, some more. But overall, the State Board of Insurance maintains that motorists will pay $4,200,000 less in premiums. Average statewide saving will be about one per cent for all classes of coverage combined.

Board adopted, with minor changes, the recommendations of its staff as submitted at a public hearing on June 20. Changes related to commercial and miscellaneous classes for bodily injury, property damage liability and physical damage coverages.

At the same time, the Board authorized a study of so-called "good student" credit. Latter would make some reduction in stepped-up rates charged young males under 25, provided they are students in the upper scholastic achievement bracket. Board said it is strongly inclined toward allowing such a discount.

Another study will explore the possibility of creating additional statistical territories.

APPOINTMENTS

Gov. John Connally reappointed to the Board of Regents of State Senior Colleges J. C. Kellam of Austin, Emil C. Rassman of Midland and William C. Donnell of Marathon. Board generally supervises East Texas State, Stephen F. Austin State, Sul Ross State and Angelo State Colleges.

Among other recent reappointments were:

Scott L. Hartgrove of Paint Rock, E. H. Swain and James L. Daniel of Eden to Lower Concho River Water and Soil Conservation Authority board of directors.

H. D. Stewart Jr. of Big Spring to State Board of Barber Examiners.

Virgil Versaggi of Brownsville to Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission.

William C. Richards of Athens and E. M. Decker Jr. of Jacksonville to the board of managers of the Texas State Railroad (a five-mile state-owned line in East Texas).

A Lubbock woman won a new trial from the Supreme Court in her damage suit resulting from discovery of a surgical sponge alleged to have been left in her body during a Caesarian section in 1959. In directing the second trial, the Court departed from a 25-year old rule that such suits must be filed within two years.

Houston engineering and construction firms failed to get a high court review of their dispute over adequacy of the giant gates fabricated and installed for Canyon Dam in Comal County.

Supreme Court upheld a finding by the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals that transactions between parties in violation of antitrust laws are void and unenforceable.

GRANTS CLEARED

Anti-poverty grants totaling more than $9 million to find jobs for 100,000 hard-core Texas unemployed have been cleared by governor.

Connally waived power of veto over the "concentrated employment programs" which will operate in Houston and San Antonio.

Houston project will receive more than $4,900,000. San Antonio, $4,100,000. Local contributions will go into programs concentrated in cities' worst slum areas and providing counseling, training and job placement services.

BUSINESS ACTIVITY UP

Texas business activity reached another record high in May - five per cent over previous month and 10 per cent over May, 1966.

Average annual growth rate of Texas business activity during first five months of 1967 was nine per cent, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Industrial production index maintained a fairly steady rise throughout 1966 and jumped again in May after leveling off early this year. Bureau also reports a 20 per cent construction gain during May and predicts continued growth.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

At first I thought I was sufficed but when I finally woke up under the tree where I was napping I discovered a copy of The Houston Chronicle had blown over my face and when I flailed around and got it off I decided I might as well read it. Sometimes this is a good way to get back to sleep.

It didn't work, because of two articles I found in it.

One was a report quoting a big city mayor as saying every city in the United States needs help from Washington. New York alone could use 10 billion in the next few years. The cities' problems are so big and so complex, he said, that the financial burdens are now too big to bear alone. "No big city can exist without help from Washington," he said. "The problems of slums, ghettos, schools, crime, traffic violence, drinkable water, sewage disposal, air pollution... these can't be solved without outside help."

Flying U.N. Flag

As Chairman for the observance of U.N. Day in Radner township, I have requested that the U.N. flag be flown on that day, together with the United States flag. A question has been raised as to the propriety of flying these two flags together on the same flagpole. Can you give me any advice on the protocol involved?

J.A.G.

Wayne, Penna.

Dear Mr. G.:

The restrictions are these (paragraph c, section 175, Chapter 10 of the U.S. Code):

"No person shall display the flag of the United Nations or any other national or international flag equal, above, or in a position of superior prominence or honor to, or in place of, the flag of the United States at any place within the United States or possession thereof PROVIDED, that nothing in this section shall make unlawful the continuance of the practice heretofore followed of displaying in the flag of the United Nations in a position of superior prominence or honor, and other national flags in positions of equal prominence or honor, with that of the flag of the United States at the Headquarters of the United Nations."

It is very clear that if both flags are flown from the same flagpole the United Nations flag shall be placed beneath the flag of the United States. In the event that the flags are flown on separate poles, then the U.N. flag shall be placed in a position lower than the flag of the United States.

Do you have an inquiry?

The other article said the farm population has now dwindled to only 8 percent of the population. In other words, 92 percent of the people in this country are non-farmers.

I got to thinking about this and it's got me worried. Clearly, while they need more money, the cities can't tax each other to keep going, and Washington can't tax itself, so who does that leave? You're right. It leaves us 8 percent who are farming and ranching.

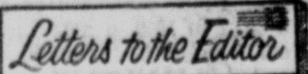

What it means is that 92 percent of the population is saying it can't make it without help from us 8 percent.

Now this is flattering enough and I sure would like to help and I sure would like anything to see Dallas or Fort Worth or Houston go under, but I've just looked over my Johnson grass farm and I'm afraid that if they're looking to me for financial salvation they're in worse shape than they realize. They'd do better trying to get their notes renewed, or maybe turning to some other country, say Cuba, for foreign aid. Or try some testimonial dinners.

No use looking to Washington. The farmers tried that and the farm population dropped from 30 percent of the population to 8 percent.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Dear Mr. Luecke,

I've just finished reading the girl's winning theme on "What Cameron Means to Me". I must say that I agree completely with all she has written. She hit home on one of the most wonderful things about Cameron, and that is the fact that the people in Cameron are like one big family. By this I mean that they are always ready to help one another and make awful good neighbors.

I feel one of Cameron's weaknesses is that we have little to offer the youth of this city. The jobs open to the youth are few, and often not promising.

I watch the youth, many my friends, who tend to drift away from Cameron to the larger and more promising cities.

One thing I'm sure we must all agree upon, Cameron needs a youth center. A place where the youth can meet and enjoy recreational activities.

Cameron needs to be attractive and promising to the people of other cities. "Cameron is a nice place to live but I wouldn't want to visit here."

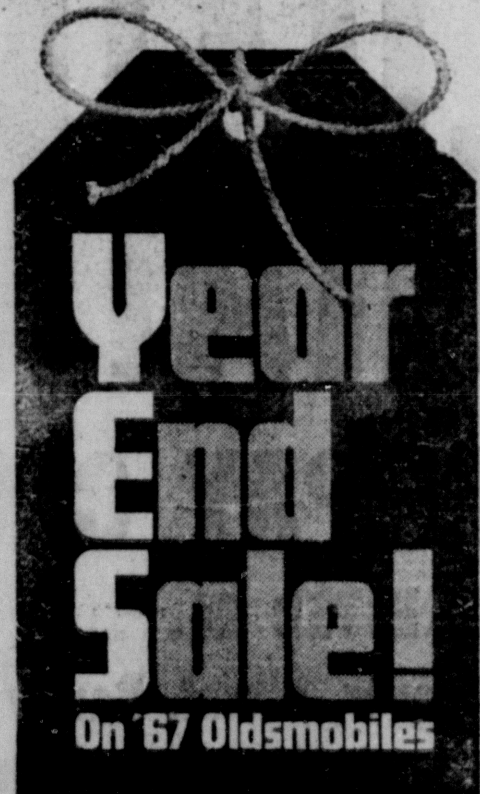

Sincerely yours,

Thomas Slavik

TREASURE HUNT

It was in a green valley, along a river's edge in California that we saw an old gentleman panning for gold last summer. Our boys were ecstatic and insisted that we take his picture. We watched him for sometime, but he seemed not to see us, so intent was he upon the dredgings of his pan.

Immediately the boys started a lively debate, speculating on how it would feel to be in the old man's shoes; still searching for a bonanza, still believing that happiness is found in vein or lode. As I listened to the enthusiastic conversation and watched the animated faces of our sons, I felt sad for the old man who looked for treasure in the sand.

Our boys are already affluent in the joy that comes from loving God and serving His Church. This precious wealth can never be lost nor stolen from them, and may be any man's for the asking.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Diplomatic Pouch

WASHINGTON D.C. The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State.

War Declarations
I wish to ask for a copy of two documents, the German and Japanese declarations of war on the United States during the Second World War. I have received information from the Air Force, Army, Navy and Marines in full. All I need to start working on my records of World War II are these two documents. I am outlining the war for further reference, and have a desk at my home filled with information. The more I read about Americans fighting for their country, the more I get to hate those so-called peace marchers who are just trying to get attention.

B.G.P.
Houston, Texas

Dear Mr. P.:
The German declaration of war was handed to the American Charge d'Affaires in Berlin by the German Minister for Foreign Affairs on December 11, 1941. On the same day an informal translation of the document was delivered to the Department of State by a member of the staff of the German Embassy in Washington. A copy of this latter text is enclosed.

The Japanese formally declared war on the United States in a note delivered to Ambassador Joseph C. Grew at the American Embassy in Tokyo on December 8, 1941. Ambassador Grew then telegraphed the text of the note to the Department of State which was "Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Tokyo, December 8, 1941. Excellency, I have the honor to inform Your Excellency that there has arisen a state of war between Your Excellency's country and Japan beginning today. I avail, etc. Signed Shigenori Togo, Minister for Foreign Affairs."

Babson Mid-year Report

BABSON PARK, Mass.

Here in the northeast corner of the U.S., we frequently warn that it is not wise to "review the bid." But then, we know that there is always an "antidote" for every ailment. So we counter with: "Confession is good for the soul." And that is precisely what we plan to do today - at the midway mark of 1967. Hence, we turn back to our extensive forecast of things to come in 1967 published here on Dec. 29, 1966. Also, as we go along we shall adopt a threefold policy aimed at (1) exulting a bit where we were "on the nose," (2) admitting our guilt, and (3) adjusting our course with an eye to the remaining months of the year.

FOREIGN DEVELOPMENTS

As 1966 ended, we warned that "the greatest danger for the year ahead does not exist on the domestic front." Throughout the first half of 1967 the direct developments surely have been in the military and political areas abroad. As all eyes were firmly fixed on the increasing bloody conflict in Vietnam, the Middle East burst into flame.

G. A. Nasser of Egypt, egged on by the trouble makers in Moscow and surreitured with Russian armament, screamed for a "holy war" to wipe out Israel. But his zeal soon cooled, as did Goliath's when David moved resolutely forth to meet the danger. As we review the events of recent weeks we recall our December statement: "Heavily armed with Soviet weapons, the Arabs of the Middle East - squared off against Israel - present a grave threat to world peace."

NO WORLD WAR YET
Despite our forebodings of late last year, we then felt that the smoldering fires evident in the Middle East would not erupt into World War III. At the same time we flatly predicted that the issue in Vietnam would not be resolved in 1967. Today as we weigh more recent developments, we are still convinced that neither Russia nor the U.S. views a head-on collision as inevitable. As a nation we are hopeful that the Soviets will gradually give up their aim of world conquest; while the Politburo is persuaded that Americans are drifting steadily leftward and that we will eventually capitulate to Communism without a nuclear war.

To be sure, the danger is ever present when two strong men armed to the teeth confront each other. Should we overwhelm North Vietnam, the provocation would be heightened. Had Egypt liquidated Israel, the West would have been pushed toward massive intervention. But apparently our State Department is thinking more of a holding action in South Vietnam. And Israel's valor saved the U.S. for the time being in the Middle East. Consequently the day of great evil has been put forward - hopefully beyond the end of this year.

TURNING TO BUSINESS

There was much more on possible foreign developments in our Forecast for 1967. A rereading would be highly exciting in view of unfolding events. But we devoted even more space to trends and probable happenings in business and finance. We foresaw that military spending would be raised in 1967, softening "the impact of any easing in the private sector of the economy." Flatly we forecast a "definite deceleration in business activity." We correctly outlined the threat to profits arising from "increased productive capacity" and "the inflation in labor and other operating costs." Most important, we predicted "an abrupt switch in 1967 from a policy of inventory accumulation to one of inventory liquidation."

On credit, we expected enough easing to "permit more orderly monetary conditions." On housing we thought it would be "midyear or after before this important part of our economy can contribute much strength to over-all business." We viewed labor as standing "at the crossroads" with "more likelihood in 1967 of restrictive labor legislation than at any time since Taft-Hartley was put on the books." We correctly pegged the sales lag in autos and other durable goods, the hike in living costs, and the "lethargy" in retail trade. But we missed the had slump in farmers' net income and the difficulties that farm implement manufacturers have been encountering.

STOCKS AND POLITICS

At the end of last year we were somewhat more cautious as to the prospects for common stocks than developments since have warranted. However, we were up the right alley in forecasting "the old aristocracy of the blue chips based on past performance" would be "replaced by a new aristocracy of super-able management based up on hopes of good future performance." This has been borne out by the way the "performance" issues have soared while the blue chips wallowed.

It now looks as if we were over-optimistic on the will and capacity of Congress to curb boondoggle spending. We suggested that Congress would become "more critical of the looting going on under cover of the Administration's War on Poverty." However, even with the rising pressures of war and rumors of more war, our legislators have largely followed a program of "pork barrel" as usual. We are still hopeful for an awakening on this score during the remainder of this year.

LOOKING AT FINAL HALF

Foremost, we still feel that income taxes will be hiked before

In Memory of My Mother,

By Mrs. Edgar Love

Just across the river
Over on the other side
Waits a darling little Mother . . .
With her arms extended wide,
She would love to hold us in her arms
And say, now, now don't cry
There's going to be a better day
In the Great Sweet Bye and Bye.
Oh yes, there'll be a better day
A day we long to see
When all our family once again
Will live in harmony.
We will sit up there in a circle of love
A thing on this earth we're denied
No more to go out, but dwell
Up above
With the Lord whom we love by our side
And when the storm clouds all
Have passed
And the mist has blown away
We will laugh, and talk, and shout,
And sing
Oh What a Perfect Day!

Power of Precedent

On March 18, 1963, the felony conviction of one Clarence Gideon was thrown out by the United States Supreme Court. Reason: at his trial, Gideon had not been represented by a lawyer.

The consequences were astonishing. Hundreds of prisoners, already convicted of everything from murder to robbery to arson, promptly filed appeals and won their freedom. Probably none of them had ever heard of Clarence Gideon before his courtroom triumph. But the rule that covered his case covered theirs too.

Of course, court decisions do not always lead to such dramatic results. Yet, their influence on our everyday life is well-nigh incalculable.

The display on today's newsstand reflects yesterday's obscenity decision. The label on today's medicine reflects yesterday's warranty decision. The cost of today's vacation reflects yesterday's tax decision.

The key to this pervasive influence is the power of precedent. In law, precedent is the means by which the problems of the present are measured against the experience of the past.

Suppose a court has to decide if you were negligent in the way you handled your car on a wet pavement, or the way you swung your golf club, or the way you filled out a check.

The court will examine precedents—that is, prior court decisions —for guidance. The more closely an earlier case resembles yours, the more likely that it will persuade the court to reach the same conclusion.

Precedents are not to be followed blindly. But neither are they to be lightly disregarded. As a matter of plain justice, people in equal circumstances should get equal treatment.

Furthermore, precedents lend shape and predictability to our entire legal system. Countless disputes between individuals are settled without a lawsuit simply because the precedents make clear, in advance, which side would win.

So, in a very real sense, we each have a direct personal stake in what happens to "two other guys" in the courtroom. We want them treated fairly not only for their own sake but also for ours, because—by way of precedent—they are establishing standards of right and wrong for us all.

They are our standards, just as Clarence Gideon was a stand-in for the men in jail. That is why everyone's "day in court" is today.

Schiller Named To Aeronautics Agency Study

Speaker of the House Ben Barnes today announced the appointment of Reps. J. E. "Jake" Johnson of Houston, Milton Schiller of Cameron, Walter Knapp of Amarillo, Fred Orr of De Soto, and C. L. Ray of Marshall to a Special Aviation Committee to study the Texas Aeronautics Commission. Speaker Barnes designated Rep. Johnson to serve as committee chairman.

The study group, authorized by House Simple Resolution 259, will make a thorough study of the procedures, policy-making practices, rules, and functions of the Texas Aeronautics Commission. Committee members have been directed to report to the Speaker and members of the House at the beginning of the 61st Legislature session in 1969.

In making the appointments Speaker Barnes said, "I chose these five Representatives because they are interested in and familiar with Texas aeronautical problems and they represent the views of widely diverse sections of the state. I am confident that they will study this agency with great care and produce an objective report on which the Legislature may base any necessary action."
